ENTIRE FAMILY KILLED BY AN INTERURBAN CAR

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY OCCURS NEAR HEBRON SUNDAY MORNING WHEN FOUR PEOPLE LOST THEIR LIVES

THE DEAD.

Dennis Dodson, 35.
Mrs. Helen Burch Dodson, 32.
Hazel Adele Dodson, 7.
Mabel Helen Dodson, 4.

West bound Ohio Electric interurban car, leaving Newark shortly after 9 o'clock Sunday morning, ran into a buggy near Voorhees' lane, when a horse driven by Dennis Dodson frightened at the approaching car and whirling suddenly jumped across the track. Mrs. Dodson and little daughter, Mabel, were instantly killed, Mr. Dodson died a few minutes after being hit, and Hazel, another daughter, aged seven, was fatally injured, dying at 8:45 o'clock Sunday evening.

One of the worst casualties, as the one of the most shocking instances in the annals of Licking county occurred Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock, by which an entire family of father, mother and two daughters lost their lives when a west bound car on the Ohio electric interurban railway struck a horse and buggy near Voorhees lane, about one-half mile east of Hebron, instantly killing Mrs. Dodson, her youngest daughter Mabel, fatally injuring another daughter,
Hazel, aged 7, the latter suffering
Sunday evening, when her sufferings were ended and she was called up to join her parents and baby sister. Mr.
Dodson died shortly after being placed upon the car.
Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs.
Dodson decided to visit at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Dodson, residing two miles south of this city. Mr. Dodson harnessed his four-year-old colt to a plano box buggy, and accompanied by his wife and two little daughters, started east on the Hebron road about 9:35 o'clock. The colt had not been driven much this spring, but was considered a safe driver and had been broken to automobiles, steam and interurban cars.
As the party approached Voorhees lane, about one-half mile east of Hebron, a west bound interurban car hove in sight. Mr. Dodson is ADVANTAGEOUS BUYING.

You have heard of the man saves money.

The principle involved is to when the other fellow is most eager to buy.

broken. Death must have been instantaneous. Baby Mabel lay near the mother and death must have also been sudden for her. The lower part of the body was bruised. Little Hazel was picked up and it was seen that a spark of life still remained. She was unconscious.

Tenderly the dead, with the injured child, were placed aboard the car. In the meantime word had reached Hebron and several autos were called into requisition and hastened to the scene of the accident. Drs. O. M. Kramer and Geo. M. Brown were among the first to arrive and rendered all assistance in their power to the injured child, but it was seen at once that she was beyond all possible human aid.

The car proceeded to Hebron and thence south on the spur toward Buckeye Lake until Cumberland St. was reached, where the Dodson home is located a short distance east of the track. The dead were carried into the home and the little injured girl into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bader, adjoining the Dodson home. Here she was attended throughout the day by Drs. Kramer and Brown, death coming mercifully to end her sufferings at 8:40 o'clock in the evening. As she was being carried into the Bader home she regained consciousness for a moment, recognized Mrs. Bader and spoke to her.

Dr. W. E. Wylarch arrived shortly after 10 o'clock, viewed the remains and secured the names of witnesses. He will hold an inquest some time today.

The motorman of the car, Earl Beall, came to Newark from West Lafayette several years ago, operating a car on the city lines for some time and then accepted a position on the interurban. He was completely unnerfed after the accident, but continued his run throughout the day, registering in at 10 o'clock Sunday night. He is held blameless, as the road where the accident occurred runs parallel with the track and is very narrow, and the horse which Mr. Dodson was driving apparently did not frighten until the car was upon them. The power had been taken off by Motorman Beall to allow the car to drift for the curve near Voorhees lane, and when the horse suddenly jumped across the track it happened so quickly that no power on earth could have saved the occupants of the rig.

The terrible accident cast a gloom over the little village of Hebron, where the Dodsons resided, and was the subject of conversation throughout the day. Groups of people could be seen Sunday morning discussing the sad affair and at the Dodson home sympathetic neighbors gathered to offer any assistance which might be needed.

Dennis Dodson was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dodson, who reside between Newark and Hebron. He was employed by the Heisey Co. in the gas fields and was highly respected and held in esteem by his neighbors and those who knew him. He is survived by one sister and four brothers, Lemuel and John of this city, Charles of Columbus, and Earl, who resides with his parents at Earl, Ohio. Mrs. Dodson was formerly Miss Helen Burch and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burch, the latter making her home with her son-in-law and daughter. She also has one sister, Mrs. Ollie Chism, residing on the Granville road, D. P. Burch, H. D. Burch of Hebron and J. B. Burch of this city are uncles.

The funeral will take place at the M. E. church at Hebron Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. R. Tibbles, pastor of the church, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. J. R. Shurtz of the Church of Christ.

The remains of the two little girls will repose in one casket and the four bodies will be buried in one grave.

Motorman Earl Beall's Story.

Motorman Earl Beall, who has the reputation of being one of the best and most careful motormen in the service of the Ohio Electric railway, had the following to say regarding the accident:

"I went out Sunday morning at 9 o'clock on a west bound car. We were making good time and were running parallel along the old National road and had reached a point about one mile east of Hebron, when I noticed a rig approaching us.

The buggy contained a man, a woman and two children. The horse had approached to within a short distance of the car when it became frightened and plunged across the track, directly in front of the car, leaving the buggy containing the occupants on the track. I immediately realized that an accident was unavoidable, and while I did all that I could to avert it, without a moment's warning the car struck the buggy, fairly hurling the occupants out on the ground with great force.

"As soon as possible I brought the car to a stop and then started down the track to a farmhouse, which was some distance from the scene of the accident. Fortunately the house was equipped with a telephone, and I soon notified the train dispatcher of (Continued on page 8, col. 3.)

WILL RENDER DECISION IN DOVER CASE

Circuit Court Will Meet Tuesday in Coshocton to Decide Whether Bail Will Be Permissible.

Judges Voorhees and Powell of the circuit court arrived in the city on Monday to take up the application of Art. Dover, and others to be released on bail.

On motion the court passed the hearing until Tuesday at Coshocton on the matter of petition in error. The matter of hearing will be as to the right of defendants to be released from jail upon giving bond.

The matter was not heard here on Monday because it was desired that Judge Shields should take part in the decision. The regular May term of circuit court opening at Coshocton on Tuesday and the three judges will be present.

STIMPSON TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Washington, May 22. — Henry L. Stimpson of New York took the oath of office as secretary of war, succeeding Dickinson.

PRETTY SOFT FOR "BILLY" SUNDAY.

Toledo, O., May 22.—Evangelist "Billy" Sunday yesterday received $15,423.58 for his six-weeks' work here from the people of Toledo. This breaks all previous records in the history of Sunday's work. The largest sum that Sunday ever received, previous to his Toledo engagement, was $13,200 at New Castle, Pa.

The highest amount received in the Sunday collection was a one-thousand dollar contribution from a department store.

Next from the First National Bank and T. W. Warner.

A feature of the collection is that approximately $10,000 of the amount was given by persons of ordinary means.

More than 800,000 persons attended the meetings, while the conversions reached 7300, Sunday says. This beats the world's record, he says, for conversions, which was held by New Castle.

The converts include men and women from every phase of citizenship of Toledo. The big feature of the conversions was the large number of members of the Lucas county bar and county officials who hit the sawdust trail.

Exports of aluminum from France during the first 16 months of 1910 were 3,152 tons, against 3,142 tons for the same period of 1909.

ANOTHER PROGRESSIVE MAY BE ADDED TO THE CABINET

Washington, May 22.—Rumors that another progressive of the Fisher and Stimpson type will soon be added to the president's cabinet are thick around Washington today. The new man is expected to replace some ultra-conservative, probably Knox or McVeigh.

The belief is current that President Taft thinks it will help his political fortunes to have more progressives in the cabinet, and it is expected Knox's "dollar diplomacy" will be the target for Democratic orators during the coming campaign.

McVeigh's resignation has been repeatedly rumored here and repeatedly denied, but it is known he wants to give his attention to his many personal interests. The report says Secretary Nagel may resign for the same reason. It is said in this connection that Taft is being guided much of late by Secretary Fisher, who favors a rather progressive course.

The LaFollette progressives are not wild with joy over this turn of affairs, as they see in it a possible loss to their party of all but the most radical progressives.

THE GOOD THINGS THAT HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY THE LEGISLATURE

James W. Faulkner's Sunday letter to the Enquirer contains the following comprehensive digest of what has been accomplished by the present session of the Ohio Legislature:

"When the credit side of the Assembly is inspected one marvels at the mean little things that it did. As a matter of fact, it has accomplished more at this session than any of its predecessors since the constitution of 1851.

"First and foremost, it took the judicial system out of politics by providing a separate, nonpartisan ballot for judges. It should have gone farther and made the nominations nonpartisan also, but this is not a serious defect, as candidates can be named by petition and will be given the same rights as those named by parties. With this law falls the reprehensible doctrine of party responsibility for judges, the only officials who are not to be reckoned as public servants.

"It also fixed the tax rate at 1 per cent, allowing the voters to increase that amount by 50 per cent. It is only the voters, though, that can make the increase, not the officials. There was also established a state insurance fund to be made up of assessments upon employers and working people, out of which industrial victims will receive directly compensations in generous amounts for injuries received. This law is expected to drive into oblivion the 'claim agent' and the 'ambulance chasing' lawyer, who make questionable livings out of the misfortunes of mangled humanity.

"It provided, too, for the limiting of the hours of employed females in factories and shops, practically writing (Continued on Page 4, Col. 3.)

REV. HERBERT S. BIGELOW'S ADDRESS AT PEOPLE'S CHURCH

Cincinnati, May 22.—Speaking at the People's church, Herbert S. Bigelow thus referred to present conditions:

"A member of the Illinois legislature was once invited to address the prisoners at the chapel service.

"I don't know what to call you," he began, "I can't say gentlemen, because you had been gentlemen when you would not be here. I can't say fellow citizens, for you have lost your vote. And if I say, my friends, I give myself away."

"A member of another legislature told me that, at the close of the session, he saw a fellow senator get a screw driver of the janitor, take the Yale lock off his desk, put it in his grip and carry him home.

"Gentlemen," said a former senator on the floor of the Ohio senate, "I am the only honest man in this body. At least I am the only man whose honesty has been passed upon by a jury."

"The popular distrust of legislative bodies is one of the ugliest phases of our political life.

"Probably the representatives are as good as the people. But their integrity is subjected to a greater strain than that of the average citizen. Stronger and abler men are needed to face the blower of special interests at the state capital.

"But while we are waiting for the needed improvement in the character of legislative bodies, something else may be done to allay the popular distrust.

"Amend the state constitution so that the people may bring injunction proceedings against any act of their legislature, and may also mandamus legislature to permit desired legislation.

"The referendum is the legislative injunction and the initiative is the mandamus we need. By means of these provisions the people become an adjunct of the legislature.

"This is a shocking proposal to men who are content that a court should enjoin legislatures or even legislate by constructions.

"Thus is the issue drawn in our day between the friend and foe of popular government. Ten American cities have already achieved the initiative and referendum. This revolution has taken place in ten short years. In another ten years there will not be a single northern state without these powers, and direct legislation will, by that time, be the established practice of American municipal life.

"The people have tried government by legislatures and are not satisfied with it. Now they are going to try their own hand. While we are disputing about the wisdom of the change, the nation is actually being made. The change is having a new birth in freedom."

TREATY IS SIGNED BY MEXICANS

Government Treats With Revolutionists and War is Ended
HOSTILITIES TO CEASE
At Once According to Agreement
Signed Sunday Night
at 10 O'clock.

Juarez, Mex., May 22.—If President Diaz and Vice President Corral resign by June 1, the peace pact signed here last night will automatically become permanent. If they should continue in office the treaty will expire and the rebels will resume fighting. The final signing of the treaty was picturesque. Four autos carried the peace envoys to the custom house, which for some reason was locked. The autos formed in a half circle with all their lights pointed at the doors of the custom house, and in this light the various representatives read their part of the agreement. When a street car spat out the light from the autos, newspaper men held lighted matches for the readers.

Madero furnished the fountain pen with the various copies of the agreement were signed.

"The real test of strength for Madero in the Mexican revolution is about to begin. Whether he will be able to stop the fighting, now that he has brought about the peace treaty is the question which worries his friends. His father said today that it would take a long time to stop all the fighting, as the rebel bands are widely scattered and many of the leaders will pay no attention to telegrams from Madero for several days because they will believe them to be the work of Diaz agents. It is requested that the news associations of the United States and Mexico help spread the news that peace has really been declared.

Fighting in outlying points is expected to continue until Madero reaches Mexico City. Madero himself today was very confident that Flaguero would accept the peace treaty and stop the fighting in the south.

Mexico City, May 22.—Upon the receipt of official advice of the signing of the peace pact at Juarez, it was announced that Diaz would resign on May 23. He will go at once to Vera Cruz and embark for France to stop at Havana for a talk with General Reyes, who was ordered to stop there recently on being ordered to return to Mexico. The rebels in Southern Mexico yesterday captured Generaluexaco, south of the capital. The federal officials there were allowed to depart, as they had made practically no resistance. There is still an uneasy feeling here that the southern rebels will refuse to accept the peace terms.

Juarez, Mex., May 22.—Officially designated representatives of the Mexican government and the revolutionists at 10 o'clock last night signed a peace agreement at the customs house here, intended to end the hostilities that have been waged in Mexico for the last six months. Though covering only the principal points negotiated thus far, the agreement practically records the concessions by the government of those demands which started, on Nov. 20 last, armed revolution in Mexico. Telegrams announcing the signing of the agreement were dispatched throughout Mexico to revolutionary and federal leaders alike.

Constitutional restrictions prevented the inclusion in the agreement of the fact that the rebels will be permitted to suggest to various state legislatures the names of provisional governors, and likewise the fact that six of the eight members of the new cabinet have been chosen by the revolutionists, but (Continued on Page 5, Col. 4.)

SMALLPOX AT NEW LEXINGTON

New Lexington, May 22.—This town is practically closed today on account of a smallpox epidemic that has broken out here. Seven of the members of the family of Clyde Wilson were attacked by the disease, and it was at first called chickenpox, but Dr. Duke of the state board of health pronounced it smallpox. Churches and schools are closed, court adjourned today and all amusement places have been ordered closed.

In a hair-raising ninth inning finish, Newham's Molders took the Lima aggregation into camp Sunday afternoon before a fair sized crowd at Wehrle park by the close score of 2 to 1. Both teams played some nice ball, particularly the Lima team which deserved a better treatment. It's not saying too much to remark that Newark was lucky. The horse shoe and rabbit's foot was working overtime for the warriors under Newham and yet in the last inning it was clean baseball that gave the victors the winning run. Platter for Newark and Donald for Lima were the opposing slabsmen and the work of both men was classy. Each found himself in sad predicaments several times and each pulled out as many times. It was Donald's unluckiest day and he was due to fall before the head work of Manager Newham.

It was the ninth inning when Newham's braves put an end to the long delayed decision. It was inside base-

Heart and Home Talks

by Barbara Boyd

Some Women We Ought to Know

Queen Victoria and All Noble Queens.

WITH coronation talk in the air, and all sorts of gossip circulating freely about Queen Mary, what she will wear on the great day, her influence on fashions, and on social and home life, it is interesting to hark back to her great predecessor, Queen Victoria. In one feature of the coronation, Queen Mary is following Queen Victoria. Like Victoria, Mary will have train-bearers instead of pages. People are wondering, if, in other more important matters, she intends following the example of this illustrious queen. For Queen Victoria's reign glows with a light that will not be dimmed through many centuries. If Queen Mary could be half so influential, hers would be another record for England to be proud of. And she could then well be included among those to whom a window has been placed in the Cathedral at Liverpool in honor of Queen Victoria and all noble queens.

Every one knows the chief facts of Queen Victoria's life. And knowing these facts, the world reverences her, not so much because she was queen, but because she was a good woman. She has a warm place in the hearts of the whole world, but it is not the glory and glitter of the crown that has attracted the world to her, but her worth as a woman. The wonderful use she made of her unusual opportunities makes all feel like bowing before her in reverence, but the homage is always for the good woman rather than the queen. For it is the good woman in her that stands out rather than the insignia of royalty.

Thus time makes manifest what is the real and what is the transitory. She might have been today a picturesque figure in history to whom a certain amount of interest attached because she had been a queen. But instead, she is a vital personality, loved and honored. Her influence for good reaches farther and farther with the passing years. And when one thinks how quite natural it would have been for her to have done otherwise, the wonder and the reverence grow. For she was very young when she came to the throne, only eighteen, and great power was hers. How many girls of eighteen would have wielded this power so well! The world was literally at her feet, flattering her, offering pleasure in all its most attractive guises. And she could do as she pleased, for she was queen.

And yet had she chosen to do other than she did, how different would have been her memory today! She stands for an example, right in our own experience of the enduring power, the reality of good. As a good woman with unusual power, she stood steadfastly for all that is good. And as such, she is an inspiration to use what influence we may have, for the right. For the good endures.

Braised Breast of Lamb—Remove the bones from the breast—weighing three or four pounds—using a sharp pointed knife. Wipe with a damp cloth, then sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll up tightly and bind with twine or a strip of muslin. In the bottom of the braising pan put one tablespoonful each of chopped onion and turnip, two tablespoonfuls of chopped carrot, a half teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and a tablespoonful of butter or dripping. Stand on the fire and stir occasionally until the vegetables begin to brown, then lay in the meat dredged with a little flour, add a half pint of boiling water, cover closely and cook in a moderate oven for three hours. Before serving thicken and strain the gravy.

Mint Jelly—Break enough leaves of tender mint to make one cupful when pressed; cut on chop, cover with a pint of boiling water and steep for half an hour, then strain, pressing hard. Soak a half package of gelatin in a half cupful of cold water and stand over hot water until dissolved. Add to the mint water one tablespoonful of powdered sugar and three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice or vinegar. Tint slightly with green coloring and pour into wetted molds, placing on ice until firm.

LYNCHINGS OF NEGROES IN TWO STATES

Lake City, Fla., May 22.—Six negroes, suspected of complicity in the murder of a prominent citizen, were taken from jail here early on Sunday morning, carried to the suburbs of the city, tied to trees and riddled with bullets.

The negroes were gotten out of the jail by 10 men, who claimed to be officers and presented to the 17-year-old son of the sheriff a telegraph which ordered him to release the negroes.

The boy had been left in charge of the jail by his father, and, thinking the telegram was straight, at once allowed the ten men to take the six negroes, whose names were mentioned.

COSHOCOTON SHERIFF

Captured Escaped Convict from the Ohio Penitentiary at Granite City, Ill., Sunday.

Granite City, Ill., May 22.—Sheriff A. P. McDonald of Coshocton, Ohio, arrested George Douglas, an escaped convict, yesterday, upon whose head he says there is a price of $1000. Douglas shot and wounded a man in Coshocton several years ago, according to McDonald, and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Six months later he was paroled and returned to Coshocton, where he renewed his quarrel with the man he had wounded and shot him again, again failed to kill him. He was arrested for that offense and was sentenced to serve 10 years in the pen at Columbus. After serving about a year of that sentence he escaped about a year ago, and disappeared, but letters sent to some man of his name to St. Louis gave a clue to his whereabouts.

GEORGE B. COX FINALLY DRIVEN FROM POLITICS

For This Splendid Achievement Credit Is Due to Cincinnati's Brilliant Prosecutor, Henry T. Hunt

The third and, as we are assured, final retirement of George B. Cox from politics is the result to a very large extent of the tireless and efficient public service of a comparatively young man.

When Cox retired the other two times it was in each case immediately following the overwhelming defeat of his party in his home city and county. This time it comes after a fairly successful local campaign, for while the Republican party in Hamilton county suffered some reverses last autumn, yet as compared with the rest of the state, it was quite successful there. Nevertheless, the people of that county re-elected Henry T. Hunt the Democratic Prosecuting Attorney who had, during his first term, made a strong and successful fight against a number of petty grafts fostered by the Cox machine. On his re-election and favored by the presence for one term in the Criminal court of an honest Democratic Judge, Mr. Hunt indicted Cox for perjury. This was a final blow. After using the Constitutional courts to the limit, after every Republican Judge used every effort to balk the Prosecutor, and after he had been sustained only by a Democratic Common Pleas Judge and the two Democratic Supreme Judges, finally a Common Pleas Judge, one of Cox's own creatures, dismissed the indictment against Cox, not because Cox had not

DEMOCRATIC SENATE PROBABLE

It the next Presidential election is carried by the Democrats, it is practically certain they will also control the senate. Should the Republicans elect the President, there will still be the possibility of Democratic control in the Senate.

The substitution of four Democrats for as many Republicans would make the Senate a tie; if the Democrats held the vice presidency they would therefore control the Senate.

These Republicans face prospects of being succeeded by Democrats: Briggs of New Jersey, Brown of Nebraska, Curtis of Kansas, Dixon of Montana, Frye of Maine, Gamble of South Dakota and Kenyon of Iowa.

THE FARMERS' SHAM FRIENDS

The farmers free list bill is blocked in the United States Senate. Unless strong pressure is brought to bear there is danger that the bill will die in committee.

Yet the interests that are supplying money to fight reciprocity, which interests are working overtime proclaiming their friendship for the farmers and asserting they oppose reciprocity solely because they feel for the farmers, have not as yet raised their voice against the blockade of the farmers' free list bill.

Query: If the interests fighting reciprocity are really and in fact such great friends of the farmers, why are they indifferent over the fate of a bill which will untax nearly everything the farmers use?

committed perjury, but because of some alleged technical defect in the law. It may be this will be the end, or it may be that the public opinion of the state will make the courts stop using their power to protect malefactors of high political influence. However that may be, so far was Cox himself from regarding such a technical escape from a felon's cell as a vindication, that he the same day announced his retirement from politics. On this occasion the correct thing to say is that Cox has not only retired from politics, but that he has been driven from politics.

It comes to but few men, either in politics or elsewhere, to achieve so complete success as has crowned the political and official career of Mr. Hunt at so early an age. Honest and fearless devotion to the public service, an eye single to the public interest, determined efforts to vindicate the majority of the law without respect to persons, cannot fail to commend Mr. Hunt to favorable consideration of the people, not only of Hamilton county, but of the state at large. These are the qualities which make a man an asset to the political party to which he belongs. It is well that the Democracy of Ohio in considering its political future, should take into account Henry T. Hunt's valuable service during two terms as Prosecuting Attorney of Hamilton county.

RAIN COMES AS A WELCOME RELIEF TO ALL

Heavy Downpour Was Accompanied by Much Wind and Fine Electrical Display.

Newark experienced a refreshing rain Saturday night, which cooled the atmosphere and laid the dust, which had been worrying the housewives and annoying the pedestrians for many days. Accompanying the rain storm, a high wind created considerable havoc and some damage was done by the accompanying electrical storm.

Besides the usual damage done to the telephone and telegraph wires, signs, roofs, etc., lightning struck the sheep barn of Vern Davis, near Hebron, and destroyed the structure with its contents.

It was about 7 o'clock when the storm broke. For an hour it rained incessantly. The heavy downpour was driven in sheets into the faces of pedestrians who failed to get into shelter and many Saturday night shoppers who had left their homes with windows open were greeted upon their return with well flooded houses.

Hail accompanied the rain, but it did not last long, and no damage was done from this source. Some foliage was stripped from the trees, but not enough to injure them.

Down town the rain and wind drove pedestrians and shoppers pell mell into shelter. Five minutes after the storm broke the Arcade was crowded with people who sought shelter in that popular trading center, and it was the scene of much merry-making by those who took their predicament philosophically. Men and women chased their hats.

WHAT'S THE USE?

I might go up and down the street and talk the hours away, while wiser people, whom I meet, improve the busy day. I might on Vital Topics dwell, discuss them through my hat, and bore folks to a fare you well, but what's the use of that? I might repeat the tales I hear, the gossip and the lies, and bring the sad and bring tears to some poor creature's eyes. I might make fun of Jimson's clothes, or Mrs. Quigway's hat, or ridicule old Wrigley's nose, but what's the use of that? I might display my stock of guile, and prove that it is great, and show that I am full of bile, of envy and of hate; I might produce my empty pouch and roast the plutocrat, and be a first class all round grouch, but what's the use of that? I've noticed that the chap who's fain to croak the same old song, which winds up with the sad refrain, "whatever is wrong," has just about as many friends as some old Thomas cat whose chant at midnight's hour ascends—there is no use in that.

NO INTIMIDATION OF NEWARK'S BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Advocate deprecates a newspaper controversy over the deliberations of the City Board of Education in its consideration of the employment of a Superintendent of the Public Schools. But if a warfare is to be made on the members of the Board who conscientiously believe a new man of the highest capacity should be chosen in the place of the present Superintendent, this paper will take its stand for what it believes to be right and what it feels confident will be for the best interests of the schools of Newark. Since Prof. Simkins failed to get the votes of members of the Board necessary for his re-employment, there has been an understanding in some circles that he would withdraw his application, which is the usual course that is pursued by educators under such circumstances. But an agitation is engaged in and kept up by articles in another newspaper that shows a plain attempt to brow-beat and intimidate the members of the Board who declined to vote for Mr. Simkins at both the last meetings that have been held. This warfare, that has been on lines of reckless falsehood and misrepresentation, has finally culminated in threats against these gentlemen, who are among Newark's most intelligent, highly respected, conscientious and popular citizens. They are Edward Kibler, William E. Miller and William Broome. They are not only highly capable as members of the Board, but their purposes are honest in the highest degree, their whole aim being to accomplish what they conscientiously believe will be for the best interests of the schools of our city.

In their efforts to fill the vacancy caused by the failure to re-elect Prof. Simkins these members of the Board are seeking a man of the highest and best qualification in every respect regardless of his political affiliations or views on any public question.

It is sufficient to state on this occasion that these gentlemen, in their honest and intelligent efforts to promote the best interests of our schools, are entitled to the confidence of the great mass of Newark's citizens, and the authors and instigators of threats to intimidate them are certain to meet with utter failure.

LORIMOR TO BE RE-INVESTIGATED

That the election of United States Senator William Lorimer of Illinois shall again be investigated, and that a new investigation assures his almost certain ejection from the Senate, is the prevailing opinion in Washington. Sentiment for the new investigation was brought to a head by the report of the Helm investigating committee in Springfield, which found that Lorimer had been elected by bribery and corruption.

some of them for blocks, only to give up the chase and resign themselves to the loss of their headgear. One woman's hat was blown from her head, but she was fortunate enough to save her puffs and other artificial hair adornments. The hat started on the wind from West Main and Third streets. In a jiffy it was sailing through the court house park and landed against the wall of the building near Kuster's cafe, where a mignon picked it up.

He held on to the property, hoping to find the owner. After the rain had subsided he walked around the square with the hat conspicuously displayed—in fact it was impossible to carry it with any other result.

Finally a bare-headed woman, much bedraggled, loose hair flying in the wind, hailed him and laid claim to the huge piece of millinery. The man confessed that he did not own the top-piece and surrendered the creation willingly.

The show case of the Nicholas millinery establishment, located on the North Side, was blown down and hurled into the street and made a hopeless wreck, with its contents complete loss.

A live electric wire dropped from a pole of the Licking Light & Power Company on North Fourth street, set fire to the pole and caused much excitement until linemen from the company's headquarters were rushed to the scene in a taxicab to repair the break.

A peculiar feature of the storm was the fact that East Newark was practically free from the downpour. Some rain fell, but it was more in the nature of a shower, though the wind blew with considerable force. The central part of the city was deluged, the gutters were filled and the surface sewers being overtaxed, soon filled and the water flooded the sidewalks.

The fury of the storm seemed to have been spent in the south and western parts of the city. Hebron and vicinity and Jacksontown got the full force of the elements in their anger and much damage is reported.

Both telephone companies were deluged with reports of wire trouble. Most of the trouble was minor in nature, such as crossed wires and burned fuses. No damage was done to the switchboards in either exchange and the trouble men kept diligently at work until every case reported was looked after and by night practically all the lines were again in working order. No damage was done to the

RAIN AT GRANVILLE.

Granville, O., May 22.—A welcome relief from the torrid weather of the past few days was felt Saturday evening when rain was had. The farmers have been very much in need of rain for some days, as their growing crops were dying. During all of Saturday afternoon the temperature hovered about the 93 mark, and there was something in the atmosphere that was indicative of things about to happen. While the rain was very welcome it did not amount to much, as the hungry earth drank it up greedily, and in a short time after the rain ceased there was nothing to indicate that it had rained, beyond a mere dampness.

A system which is lacking in the natural oils must have those oils supplied. Oil baths, oil taken internally and food which is rich in oils are necessary to establish the normal condition again. A cup or two of hot milk will prove helpful, and it should be sipped slowly to get the best effect.

SPLENDID OPEN MEETING OF THE G. A. R. SUNDAY

One of the best attended and most interesting meetings of the old soldiers that has been held in this city was the meeting held in the G. A. R. rooms in the Memorial building Sunday afternoon, to which all soldiers had been invited.

One of the features of the occasion was the presence of about twenty-five of the members of Joe Hooker Post, G. A. R. of Mt. Vernon, with their ladies. The Mt. Vernon delegation arrived in Newark about 9 o'clock in the morning and was taken charge of by Comrade R. C. Bigbee, who took them to the Mountbuilders' Park, where they were shown the old fort and the other attractions of the place. The party then returned to the city, and took dinner at Kuster's.

The meeting at Memorial hall in the afternoon was largely attended and one of the best programs that has been had for a long time, was carried out, and consisted of addresses, musical selections, camp fire talks, etc., and was as follows:

Invocation, Chaplain B. D. Barr.
Opening Song, Battle Hymn of the Republic.
Instrumental Solo, Miss Alma Hilliard.

Vocal Solo, Lulu Mae Barrick.
Address, Abraham Lincoln, the First American, Prof. H. E. Crowder.

A GREAT PHYSICIAN

What He Said of Germs That Cause Disease.

M. Pasteur, sometimes called the greatest physician, often said: "I believe that we shall one day rid the world of all diseases that are caused by germs."

Of all the diseases caused by germs, catarrh is one of the most persistent and loathsome. Catarrh can be cured, but only by destroying the germs.

Breathe the HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei) and cure catarrh by killing the germs. The HYOMEI method is the only sensible method, because you breathe the highly antiseptic and germ killing air directly over the entire membrane infested with catarrh germs.

HYOMEI will cure catarrh. There may be some complicated cases where it will fail, but the chances are ten to one in its favor, and the sufferer from catarrh takes no risk, because HYOMEI is a guaranteed remedy, and if it doesn't cure Evans' Drug Store will refund the purchase price.

HYOMEI will also give instant relief and cure in bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup. A complete outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs only $1.00. If you now own a Hyomei inhaler you can get a HYOMEI outfit for 50 cents.

"NEWARK ON MAP" SAYS THE ENQUIRER

This City Referred To in Town Boosting Campaign That is Now in Progress.

The city of Cincinnati is in the midst of a "boosting" campaign, an effort being made to secure 1000 new members to the commercial association.

Large illustrated posters, printed in colors, reading as follows, have been mailed broadcast and posted all over the city:

"THE TOWN KNOCKER. Who, me? What's the use? Nobody else is boosting. This town is a dead one. Our people NEVER get together. They do not know what it means, all to pull together. If Cincinnati had had a live bunch, like they have in the city of Enterprise, we'd have 500,000 people here now. No, sir; this town is sliding down hill into the river."

"This chap is a KNOCKER, but he doesn't realize it. Saying that Cincinnati never pull together hurts the town and hurts the man who says it. Our people DO get together; we ARE together NOW. The Cincinnati Commercial Association wants us to get closer together—all together, now and forever."

"Let's silence the knocker by keeping all together, all for Cincinnati. For Cincinnati's sake we ask for 1000 new members to the Commercial Association to help push things along."

"The man who knocks Cincinnati knocks his own interests. A man has a license to kick, PRO-VIDING he is doing something to improve the conditions against which he is kicking."

The Cincinnati papers are helping in the campaign by publishing a great deal of matter relating to the campaign, the publicity work being in charge of Mr. Chalmers L. Pancoast.

The Cincinnati Enquirer thus refers to Newark:

"In town development the first requirement is a strong boosting and building organization. Commercial Clubs, Boards of Trade and all boosting organizations are now devoting their energies to greater membership. Whirlwind membership campaigns are taking place in various progressive cities. At Newark, Ohio, a 'team-working' Board of Trade secured 362 new members in a seven-hour whirlwind campaign. Newark, Ohio, is a manufacturing city of 30,000; but it has 630 members in its town-boosting organization. Through this coterie of boosters Newark is accomplishing the things which will put the town on the map to stay."

The agreement records that President Diaz and Vice President Corral will resign and that the government is to concentrate its attentions on desired reforms.

In the same room where President Taft and Vice President Diaz met two years ago, when the portrait of President Taft in silent solitude looked down upon the peace commissioners, the portrait of President Diaz once hung beside the Taft picture having long since been removed, peace was formally declared.

Judge Carbajal represented the federal government and Dr. Vasquez Gomez, Francisco I. Madero, Sr., and Senor Pino Suarez acted for the revolutionists. The agreement follows:

"In the city of Juarez, on the 21st day of May, 1911, in the customs house, Senor Don Francisco S. Carbajal, representing the government of General Porfirio Diaz; Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, Don Francisco I. Madero and Don Jose Maria Pino Suarez as the representatives of the revolutionary forces, having gathered to treat about the method of effecting a cessation of hostilities in the entire national territory, and considering:

"1.—That Senor General Porfirio Diaz has manifested his resolution of resigning the presidency of the republic before the end of the present month; and

"2.—That bona fide news is at hand vice presidency of the republic within the same period; and

"3.—That by the administration of law, Senor Francisco Leon De La Barra, at present minister of foreign relations of the government of Senor General Diaz, will assume, for the interim, the power of the executive of the nation and will call the general elections according to the terms of the constitution; and

"4.—That the national government will study the conditions of public opinion in the actuality to satisfy these conditions with the provisions of the constitution, and will come to an agreement conducive to indemnifying the losses directly caused by the revolution; therefore, the two parties represented in this conference, in view of the previous considerations, have agreed to formulate the following agreement:

"From today on hostilities which have existed in the entire national territory of the republic shall cease between the forces of the government and those of the revolution, these forces to be dismissed in proportion as in each state the necessary steps are taken to re-establish and guarantee tranquility and public order.

"Transitory provision:
"As soon as possible the reconstruction or repair of telegraph and railway lines hitherto interrupted shall be begun.

"Agreed and signed in duplicate by:
"Senor Don Francisco S. Carbajal.
"Senor Francisco Vasquez Gomez.
"Don Francisco Madero.
"Don Jose Maria Pino Suarez."

The agreement was signed after Madero, Jr., leader of the revolution, expressing the view that peace could be declared only when Senor De La Barra became provisional president and the new cabinet was installed.

Some of his chiefs argued otherwise, declaring that armed forces in the field in the interim might precipitate trouble. It was suggested that in deference to the wish of President Diaz to retire when tranquility was restored, the peace agreement be made immediately, and his resignation is expected within four or five days. The latter view prevailed.

Senor Madero's hesitancy was based on the idea that a peace agreement could have no legal effect, inasmuch as one of the parties, the revolutionists, expired when peace was declared. It was pointed out to him, however, that a peace treaty in the legal sense of the word was not desired, but merely a signed declaration recording what had been done toward satisfying the demands of the revolutionists.

The troops, it is provided in the agreement, signed last night will be disbanded proportionately as each is restored to tranquility. As the revolution in many states has been incited by the opposition to the governors the retention of armed forces until the new governors are installed constitutes a practical guarantee that the issue will not be evaded.

The signing of the agreement gave a definite aspect to the more or less tenuous status of the peace parleys which has existed for the last week.

Francisco I. Madero, Jr., will remain here for at least five or six days more. He will start for Mexico City via Chihuahua and Torreon immediately after President Diaz has resigned. Assurances have been received from railroad officials that the line from here southward will be repaired in three or four days.

In Mexico City he will confer with Senor De La Barra about the question of the governors, the new cabinet and the laws which it is hoped can be formulated before congress adjourns covering disputed points for which legislation is the only remedy.

Dr. Vasquez Gomez will leave here today for San Antonio, Tex., to meet his family and journey on to Mexico City. As he will arrive there before Senor Madero he also will confer with Senor De La Barra about details of the demands of the revolutionists.

ASCENDED UP ON HIGH WHERE HE WAS BEFORE

How He Led a Multitude of Captives.

What the Ascension of Jesus Implicated For Himself and For the World.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Baltimore, Md., May 21. — Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle preached here twice today to large and attentive audiences. We report one of his discourses from the text, "When He ascended up on high He led a multitude of captives" (Ephesians iv. 8-10).

In this week occurs the anniversary of Jesus' ascension. In one sense of the word our Lord ascended (that is, from human nature and the tomb, to the divine nature and immortality) at the time of His resurrection from the dead. He tarried, however, for forty days, with the Apostles for their establishment and instruction—He on the spirit plane, invisible to them, except when He manifested Himself by appearing miraculously in various forms to convince them that He was no longer deceased, and also that He was no longer confined to human conditions—that His resurrection had made Him again a spirit being on the higher plane, where He was before He took human nature for the suffering of death, for the redemption of humanity.

Not alone by His words, but also by His conduct, our Lord taught His followers. They had not as yet been begotten of the Holy Spirit, and hence could not understand or appreciate spiritual things. They could therefore receive instruction only along natural lines. Jesus was raised from the dead a spirit being, far above angels, principalities and powers. Had He then gone directly to the Father without manifesting Himself to His disciples, they would never have been able to understand the truth of the matter.

Hence their lessons were given them largely in pantomime, corroborated by the Master's words, explaining that it was necessary that Messiah should die in order that He might redeem the world, and that it was also necessary that He ascend up on high and re-enter upon the spiritual plane of existence, which He had before He came into the world—in order that from that higher plane of being He might be the more capable of filling the great Office of Prophet, Priest, Mediator and King of the world.

"Flesh and Blood Cannot Inherit the Kingdom of God."

Not only, therefore, did Jesus manifest Himself during the forty days, some seven times, for a few moments each time, in various forms, but finally, at the conclusion of the forty days, He ascended in full view of His disciples. This was one way of telling them of His ascension, that He had gone to the Father, that they need not expect to see Him again as formerly.

We are not, however, to suppose for a moment that Jesus ascended a fleshly or human being; we remember, on the contrary, that "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God," and that "He was put to death in the flesh but quickened in the spirit," and that thenceforth, as the Apostle declares, "The Lord is that Spirit" (II Corinthians III, 17).

Seen by Saul of Tarsus.

The Apostles were to bear witness to the resurrection of Jesus; but Judas having lost his place, and it having been given to St. Paul, it was proper that the latter, as well as the rest of the Apostles, should be able to bear witness to Jesus' resurrection. Recounting those who had seen the Lord after His resurrection, in some of the various manifestations, St. Paul says, "Last of all He was seen of me also, as one born before the time."

Jesus appeared to St. Paul in the glorious brightness of His Spirit Being, "shining above the brightness of the sun at noonday." The sight caused injury to the eyes of the beholder. Such a manifestation would have been inappropriate and unsatisfactory had the Redeemer so appeared to the eleven during the forty days. How could they have identified the glorious Personage, who shone above the brightness of the sun at noonday, as the Lord Jesus, whom they had known for years. How could they have been enabled to fully identify Him, in His many different appearances, with His former self, their Friend, their Teacher? But to Saul of Tarsus, the revealing in fiery light, above the noonday glare, was very appropriate. It convinced him, in a manner that no human appearance in the flesh could have equalled, that Jesus was no longer a man and that He was no impostor. St. Paul's conversion was instantaneous. "Who art thou Lord?" he asked. "I am Jesus Whom thou persecutest"—still represented in My followers, of whom St. Stephen was one, whom you murdered, and others of whom you have been hailing to prison.

It should not cause us to marvel that Jesus ascended as He declared, "up where He was before" (John vi. 62). It should not surprise us that the Heavenly Father gave Him back all the glory and honor which He had before

He came into the world—with added glory. It should not surprise us therefore, that the Apostle declares that He ascended, in dignity and station, far above angels, principalities and powers, and every name that is named (Ephesians I, 21). On the contrary, it would be both equitable and God-like that the great Jehovah should highly honor His faithful, Only Begotten Son, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the Ending of the creation of God (Revelation xxii, 13). Could we for one moment suppose that our great Creator would allow His faithful Son, or any servant, to lay down life in Divine service, and to suffer loss as a consequence of His obedience? Is it not much more rational to believe, as the Scriptures declare, "Him both God highly exalted" (Philippians II, 9).

The Ascended One Descended.

Pastor Russell called attention to the Apostle's phraseology in the context—that the Ascended One had previously descended, and that the ascending and descending were related as cause and effect. The One who ascended up on high completely filled the highest position in the great, Divine Government of the Universe—as Head of principalities and powers, angels and men—next to the Father. Yet, the Apostle warns us that we must not identify the glorified One with the One Who, in obedience to the Father's will, humbled Himself to come down from the heavenly nature and glory to the earthly station where He, as a man, humbled Himself unto death, even unto the ignominious death of the cross.

The Apostle calls our attention to these two extremes—the extreme of humiliation and the extreme of exaltation, both accomplished in the Son of God, the Logos, the Christ.

If some of us at one time misunderstood the Scriptures and supposed that our Lord Jesus ascended to heaven in a physical condition, as a man, we entirely misunderstood the Scriptures—He Who was rich, as the Logos in glory, preserved His identity when He was made poor for our sins, made flesh, that He might be our Redeemer. Similarly, that Redeemer preserves His identity now that He has been made rich again—now that He has been received up to the Spirit Plane of glory, honor and immortality, the divine nature.

To suppose that Jesus went to heaven as a man is to mistake the significance of His title, The Son of Man, which He maintains, as identifying Him with His great redemptive work—as one of His many titles. To suppose that Jesus is a human being in heaven would be to suppose that He is still as when in the flesh, "a little lower than the angels," whereas the Scriptures declare that He has ascended far higher, so that all the angels of God, as well as men are commanded to worship Him. To suppose Jesus in heaven a human being would be to suppose Him out of all harmony with heavenly, spiritual conditions and surroundings.

Moreover, we are not told that the Church of Christ will be changed from the human to the spirit condition in the resurrection, and that this change will make the "elect of God" like their Redeemer, so that they may see Him as He is, not as He was—that they may see Him in glory, honor and immortality, exaltation, and not as the humiliated One, Who was made flesh that He might sacrifice His flesh on man's behalf? When we so thought we forgot the Scriptural declaration that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God," hence that all those called to be partakers of the divine nature and heavenly Kingdom with their Redeemer and Lord must be made like Him by the power of the First Resurrection.

Difficulties of Unbelievers.

The Pastor declared that he had found worldly-wise people very skeptical respecting the descent of the Logos, the Son of God, to earthly conditions; but that Christians seem to have more difficulty than the world in comprehending the return, the ascension of Jesus to the spirit plane and its excellent glory. Both points, however, are important, necessary, as the Apostle declares in the context. Whoever is unable to see that the Logos, the glorious Son of the Highest, humbled Himself, divested Himself of the Spirit Nature and took instead human nature, cannot see that Jesus was sinless. And those who cannot recognize that He was holy, harmless, undefiled and separate from the sinner race (Hebrews vi, 26), cannot believe in the sacrifice of Jesus as being a Ransom-price for Adam, to effect his release and that of his race from condemnation.

Pastor Russell went into considerable detail respecting the manner by which the Logos was transferred from heavenly conditions to earthly conditions, and how His purity, His perfection of Organism, His freedom from sin was preserved, notwithstanding the fact that he was born of an earthly mother who was not free from a blemish of Adam's race. He professed his hearers, free upon application, a treatise entitled "The Undeified One," which he believed showed scientifically the process used of God by which the Logos was changed from the higher to the human nature, yet preserved immaculate.

The error of supposing that Jesus is still a man signifies the denial of His word, that He would ascend up where He was before, and the denial of the Apostle's teaching that He has been highly exalted to glory and distinction, the divine nature, as instead of human nature. This error, the Pastor declared, had led to other errors, one of which he cited, namely, the error made by many Christian people of expecting the second coming of Jesus in the flesh—as a glorious man and not as a glorious Spirit, Partaker of the divine nature, and entirely unassociated from human nature.

Thinking of the Lord at His second advent as a glorified man, they associate Him with a material throne and an earthly court. This, in turn, leads other Christian people in an opposite direction. Realizing that such an earthly kingdom would be a step backward rather than a step forward, they deny the second coming of Messiah to establish the Kingdom so long promised.

The proper thought is that Jesus, in the flesh, accomplished the work which the Father had given Him to do, when He sacrificed His earthly life. The Father gloriously rewarded Him on the spirit plane. Now He is waiting for the gathering of His Church, His Bride, His Elect. These are to share in His resurrection to the divine nature and to sit with Him in His throne. Then the Kingdom of Messiah, so long promised, will begin to bless the world, using as its earthly representatives, visible to men, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the Ancient Worthies, mentioned in Hebrews xi, 38-40; through whom the blessing will extend to Natural Israel and to all the families of the earth (Acts III, 19-21).

A Multitude of Captives.

Our text, in a figurative way, represents the ascension of Jesus from the earthly plane to the heavenly as the triumph of a great Conqueror. Sin had gained ascendancy over Adam and his race, and had brought mankind low to the dust, mentally, morally and physically. Moreover, this victory over man had been gained in a legal manner—through one man's disobedience (Romans v, 12). The Logos divested Himself of His glory on the spirit plane, was made flesh, fulfilled the demands of the Law, proved Himself competent to pay the sinner's Ransom-price, and gave Himself a Ransom for all, "to be testified in due time" (I Timothy II, 6). Having finished His sacrificial work He was received again to the spirit nature with exceeding glory and to the right hand of the Majesty on high.

Thus the great Conqueror is seen returning to the heavenly state, acclaimed by the Heavenly Host; and following Him far down the centuries, the prophetic view saw, first the Church, the "Royal Priesthood," "His brethren," "His Bride," delivered from the power of sin and death, through the merit of His blood. And these were but the first corps of a following host; they were "a kind of first-fruits to God of His creatures," rescued from sin and from death (James I, 18; Revelation xiv, 4).

Later on, stretching down for a thousand years beyond the Church's deliverance, the prophetic pen foretells countless hosts of every nation, people, kindred and tongue, to be delivered from the power of sin and death through the merit of Him Who died, "the Just for the unjust." Now the Savior of the Church, His Bride, He will shortly be the Savior of the world, its Great King, Great Teacher, Great Priest, Great Mediator.

Then will come the glorious consummation, when all who will have refused Divine grace shall have been destroyed in the Second Death—then shall be heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth saying, "Glory to God in the Highest." Thenceforth there shall be no more crying nor dying, for all the former things of sin and death shall have passed away.

"Times of Restitution, Which God Hath Spoken."

At our Lord's First Advent the "acceptable time" began—the time when God, having accepted the sacrifice of Christ Jesus, became willing through Him to accept the sacrifices of all who desire to become His disciples—to take up their cross and follow Him through evil report and good report even unto death. The entire Gospel Age anticipates Israel's Day of Atonement, and the sacrifices of our Lord and the Church, His Body, are the "better sacrifices," foreshadowed by the bullock and the goat offered typically by the Jews (Hebrews ix, 19-23).

This is the acceptable year of the Lord which Jesus declared (Isaiah lxi, 2; Luke iv, 19). God's faithful people of this acceptable day are glad to be invited to "present their bodies living sacrifices, holy and acceptable unto God" (Romans xii, 1). In the end of this acceptable day will come the end of all opportunity to thus sacrifice the human nature and become joint-heirs with Christ and partakers of the heavenly nature.

Then will be introduced a new period styled, in the Scriptures, "Times (or years) of Restitution." The acceptable day for the Church's sacrifice has lasted for nearly nineteen centuries. And we know how long the "Times of Restitution" will last—nearly a thousand years.

St. Peter tells us just when these "Restitution Times" will begin. They did not begin in his day. They have not begun yet. They will begin as a result of the Second Advent of Jesus, the Messiah, and the establishment of His Kingdom and righteousness. "Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord and He shall send Jesus Christ, as before was preached unto you, whom the heavens must retain until the Times of Restitution of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all the holy prophets since the world began.

"For Moses verily said unto the fathers, A Prophet like unto me (of whom I am but a type or figure) shall the Lord your God raise up unto you from amongst your brethren. Him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever He shall speak unto you. And it shall come to pass that the soul that shall not obey that Prophet shall be destroyed from amongst the people" (Acts III, 19-23)—in the Second Death.

LIKES THE ADVOCATE.

The Advocate was a welcome visitor at my childhood's home and I now read it again with renewed interest. Though differing in politics my father preferred the Advocate to many state papers. I subscribed last winter that I might have the benefit of Pastor Russell's sermons, which I believe to be, with his series of scripture studies, the best commentaries on the Word of God that can be procured. I wait each week for another word from his pen, and week by week more highly appreciate your valuable paper.

LEGISLATURE

ing into the law a legal hall holiday on Saturday for this class.

Beginning next year agriculture will be taught in the common schools of the state outside of the cities, marking an important step in the agricultural regeneration of the commonwealth. Supporting this new law are others giving strength to the inspection arm of the Agricultural Department to exterminate the insect pests that have partly ruined the fruit orchards of Ohio. This will make for cheaper living. So will the statute revolutionizing the sale of food products by measure. All forays of measures and count are done away with and weight substituted. But, stressing this radical change are laws relating to the inspection of scales, the state superceding the local authority in enforcing inspection.

"Provision that the next constitutional convention shall not be playing of political parties was made through the enactment of a nonpartisan ballot for the election and a nonpartisan petition for the nomination of delegates to that gathering. In addition, it was provided that delegates might express upon their ballots a submission concerning a separate submission of the liquor license issue.

"In the same line of nonpartisan law there was enacted the Oregon law for the direct nomination and election of candidates for the United States Senatorship. Had there been such a law in Ohio last year there would not today be divided Democratic party. Hereafter every voter will have the opportunity of expressing his choice for Senator, and the corrupt caucus is gone forever.

Stringent laws aimed at the extinction of the "floater" in elections were enacted, and the business of the marketable elector is made both difficult and dangerous, especially as the bribery law, as changed, carries with it imprisonment in the penitentiary.

"In this connection, should the House concur in the Senate amendments to the Crosser initiative and referendum bill, a long step toward curbing the power of councils within municipalities will have been taken and the citizen will have the right to approve or veto franchises and bond issues that mean so much to him and to posterity. Because of the high percentages demanded on petitions, frivolous interference with legitimate legislation is prevented.

"The predicted passage of a strong public utilities commission law will provide a court to which those aggrieved by the actions and omissions of public service corporations can apply for relief. In addition, the flow of watered stock will be dammed and in this way investors will be protected. In the way of compensation existing companies will be protected against competition through the requirement that no new concern may be started without a certificate showing that it is necessary for public convenience.

"Nor is this all. The way was opened toward the elimination of the disgracefully bad roads that are the shame of Ohio. Under the Hudson law there will be levied in 1913 a tax of one half a mill on all property of the state, to be used in constructing a system of modern roads connecting every county seat with the capital. This levy will produce $5,000,000 and will be administered by a reorganized state highway department with a staff of expert road, highway and bridge engineers. There was also taken the long-deferred step of selling the abandoned and unused portions of the state canal system, which have been the source of a constant drain upon the treasury.

"It is believed that these lands will bring at least a minimum of a million dollars into the depleted treasury.

"Another great reform has been the centralizing of the administration of the 19 state institutions in a Board of Control, bipartisan in character, and taking away the 19 separate Boards of Trustees. Carried into law with this reform is state civil service, for every employee of these institutions is now protected against the mutations of politics.

"Bills were put through limiting the amounts which county officials may expend for clerk hire and office expenses, and a new schedule of fees devised which is expected to make these offices entirely self-supporting. The enactment of these measures put an end to the movement for a return to the pernicious fee system. In addition the office of County Jailmaster, Director, a relic of the dark past, was abolished and the duties devolved upon the County Commissioners. There were many other good measures passed. The above review indicates that the General Assembly did some splendid things.

"Governor Harmon did not fare so badly, even though his dignified shins were kicked.

"A glance through the speech in appeal which he delivered at the Democratic joint caucus shows that he asked for 17 separate and distinct measures. Two of these bills, those for the direct nomination of state officers and for the nonpartisan nomination of judicial candidates, were killed outright. The bill to devolve upon the State Engineer the executive duties of the State Board of Public Works is as good as dead, and so is the bill to abolish party emblems upon local tickets. The corrupt practices act is still pending, but in a sadly chewed-up state. The deputy, tax commission bill, designed to aid the 1 per cent tax levy statute, is also hanging fire.

"All of the rest the Governor got, including the State Women's Reformatory and the placing of the State Female control. In addition, he secured favorable action upon old recommendations, among them a provision for taking an inventory of the state's property, compulsory bidding for the state's surplus funds, the taxation of mineral lands separate from the real estate, the income tax amendment ratification and the establishment of two state Normal Schools at Kent and Bowling Green. It is said to state that it was through Republican support that he secured many of these things, opposition to most of them being manifested by the Democrats who call themselves "conservatives," but who are called by others "mullet heads."

"So far as the national platform pledges made at Dayton last year are concerned, all have been redeemed save the promise to install uniform text books in the common schools and to extend the principle of the initiative and referendum. This last promise may be redeemed on May 31. There were nine specific pledges and eight, including the initiative and referendum, having been redeemed.

"That's not a bad showing. But over against it the average citizen will be likely to set down the disgraceful exposures concerning the cupidity of certain members and the mulish disposition displayed by some of the Democrats of the body. So far as the bribery charges are concerned, they involve both Republicans and Democrats, for those who sail under the black flag of graft know no party.

"But the Democratic party is in the majority in the Assembly, and, while it can rightfully make claim for the good things done, it will also have to bear the burden of the scandalous things that have taken place. There is no gainsaying that upon the political freshest of last fall there was borne into office some qucer driftwood, wholly unsuitable for legislative timber. Some of the opposition to progressive legislation was based upon honest though crass ignorance. Most of it was a legacy from the United States senatorial contest.

"Governor Harmon's appointees and brigadiers, including some of his official household, took part in that celebrated light for Allee Pomerene. They blacked many an eye and tried on many a corn in their zeal. Reckless in their anxiety to win, they offended deeply many of the leading Democrats of the state who have ever since made it a point to resent their rough tactics. Members of the state organization who were loyal and enthusiastic supporters of Governor Harmon were alienated from him through this contest and they will be heard from in 1912.

"The hardest fighting has been done, quite naturally, by the friends of State Chairman Edward W. Hanley of Dayton, a man of the type that makes devoted followers. Satisfied that the Governor was responsible for the terrible onslaught upon him in the senatorial fight, they have been equally liberal in fighting back. Their opposition to many worthy measures was due simply to the desire to make his administration a failure, hoping thereby to injure his presidential chances."

DEDICATION
SERVICES COME TO END SUNDAY

Session Sunday Morning at New M.E. Church by Rev. Gilbert of Cincinnati.

The closing services of the dedication exercises of the First Methodist church were held on Sunday, in the presence of large congregations. In the morning the regular order of services was followed, and at its conclusion the pastor administered to twenty-one candidates the ordinance of baptism, after which he received these and a large class additional into full membership in the church.

The morning sermon was by Rev. Levi Gilbert, D. D., of Cincinnati, who took as his theme, "An Ideal of Christian Character." He spoke in opening of Paul's conception of a perfect man, who must be "measured by the fullness of the stature of Christ." He declared further that the full culmination and climax of the gospel is to make perfection of character in men and women, and toward this end patriarch and prophet and evangelist and preacher have had unity of faith—that such perfection is an outcome of the vision of God himself.

The speaker went on to say that there is too much inclination to dissociate religion from manhood—that young men should rather learn that in the Christian life they must be patterns of chivalry, of frank, outspoken nobility; and that the vibrant quality in religion should seek to follow, not the negative Christ, but the Christ of inflexible will, of magnificent determination, of heroic character.

He suggested as necessary elements in a true conception of Christianity: First, The necessity of making the most of ourselves; of seeking the ultimate unity of possibility and power. This necessity implies (1) reverence for others; (2) self reverence, remembering "whose ye are, and whom ye serve."

Secondly, we must be true to our own personality and individuality; we must have a moral conviction that will stand against the stress of modern life. Thirdly, we must have a sublime moral purpose, and last and greatest, we need a glorious idealism. The soul cannot safely complete its voyage without a guiding North star. The life that will be great must learn to reach out, to expand, to "build more noble mansions," in which we shall find the full fruition of all our faith and all our prayers. And greatest of all, you will be like Christ, if you daily companion with Him.

The evening hour was given entirely to a musical service, every number of which was rendered in a most pleasing manner. The anthems were "Ho, Every One that Thirsteth," by McFarlane, with Mr. Carey Ferguson in the solo part, and Handel's "Hallelujah, Amen," in which the choir was assisted by Mr. Wilker. "My Redeemer and My Lord," by Buck, was sung as a solo by Miss Una Marshall. The most elaborate number of the evening was a cantata, "The Forty-Sixth Psalm," by Buck, rendered by the full chorus choir.

This choir of thirty voices, recently organized by Mr. C. W. Klopp, deserves great credit for the elaborate musical contributions they have made toward the dedicatory exercises. The anthems rendered at each service have been of the highest musical quality, and rendered in a manner that reflects great credit on the director, Mr. Klopp, and on his singers. During the week the choir has been assisted by Miss Edith Earp, soprano, of Martin's Ferry.

Next Sunday, two of the anthems will be repeated by request. In the morning will be sung again "By Babylon's Wave," and in the evening, "An Even Song."

One singular co-incidence in the history of Methodist church building in Newark. The old First church, on the corner of Church and Fourth streets, was begun in 1866, and completed and dedicated in 1868, under the pastorate of Rev. Levi Cunningham. The beautiful structure which now takes its place, considered the finest in Ohio Methodism, has been entirely planned and erected under the pastorate of Rev. Levi Cunningham Sparks—the namesake of the former preacher and builder, whose mantle seems in double truth to have fallen upon his successor.

FAMILY KILLED

Monday morning Superintendent Chisum, Motorman Beall and all who could throw any light on the accident went over to Columbus, where the officials are engaged in making a full investigation of the causes leading up to what is acknowledged to be one of the worst accidents that has ever occurred on the Ohio Electric railway.

It was the general impression on Sunday that the horse had been killed. This was a mistake, as the horse broke loose from the buggy when the latter was struck and started on a run, being captured at the John Price farm, about a fourth of a mile east. It was slightly bruised, but otherwise uninjured. The horse was a valuable driver and was considered perfectly safe. Mrs. Dodson frequently driving it.

Another sad feature of the case is the fact that Oliver Chisum, a brother-in-law, residing near Granville, died Sunday evening after suffering for some time with paralysis. The Dodsons had visited him just a few days ago and it was their intention to have visited him again yesterday before returning home.

BROTHER-IN-LAW OF
INTERURBAN VICTIM
DIES THIS MORNING

Mr. Oliver F. Chisum, a farmer residing on the Charles Guckert farm, two miles east of Granville, died Monday morning about 1:30 o'clock, after an illness of some time with paralysis. The deceased had resided on this farm for seven or eight years, and was held in high esteem by all his neighbors. He was a member of the Odd Fellows' fraternity and the funeral will be held under the auspices of that order Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, standard time, from the house. The interment will be made in Maple Grove cemetery. Mrs. Chisum is a sister of Mrs. Dodson, who was killed in the accident near Hebron Sunday morning, and the death of her husband and sister has caused a double affliction, in which Mrs. Chisum has the sympathy of all her friends.
